

Friedhofskirche Vandans

CHURCH | CHAPEL

📍 Franz-Bitschnau-Weg 8, 6773 Vandans

The first chapel on the present site was built in 1479; the house of worship was extended with the galleried church in 1614. In 1650/51, following the disengagement of the parish of Tschagguns, the chapel was plain and undecorated. 1777 began with the staged rebuilding of the church nave; the choir was renovated in 1792. A significant internal renovation took place in 1850-51. It was actually supposed to be demolished in 1958 to make way for the new church, but was placed under monument protection. It was fully restored in 1990-1992 and finally reconsecrated on 29

November 1992. Sacral concerts, baptisms and rosaries are held in the cemetery church today.

VIEW MORE

The first chapel on the present site was built in 1479; the house of worship was extended with the galleried church in 1614. In 1650/51, following the disengagement of the parish of Tschagguns, the chapel was plain and undecorated. 1777 began with the staged rebuilding of the church nave; the choir was renovated in 1792. A significant internal renovation took place in 1850-51. It was actually supposed to be demolished in 1958 to make way for the new church, but was placed under monument protection. It was fully restored in 1990-1992 and finally reconsecrated on 29 November 1992. Sacral concerts, baptisms and rosaries are held in the cemetery church today.

Address

Friedhofskirche Vandans
Franz-Bitschnau-Weg 8
6773 Vandans

Contact

+43 5556 72718