Directions

The starting point for this mountain at the end of the Montafon valley is Silvretta-Bielerhöhe (2,032 m). At the chapel, the path leads northeast to the base of the mountain and then steeply uphill to the Maiboden high plateau. At the signpost there, keep right. Via the steep Halberstätterweg, it continues north towards the saddle. A narrow trail with climbing sections of difficulty levels I to II leads between the small and large Vallüla to the summit. Special caution is advised at the gulleys, which often contain old snow. The descent follows the same route.
