Tour description

You can save energy from the Douglass Hut to the Heinrich Hueter Hut. There is a route waiting for you where you will descend more than you ascend. Nevertheless, this stage is very varied. You move in a picturesque setting.

Your route starts at the Douglass Hut at the Lünensee. Already here you move in a picturesque, legendary setting around the Lünensee. Enjoy the view. The path leads you along the Lünensee. After a gentle ascent, you get a gigantic view into the Montafon and its mountain world. Keep looking to your left. There you can observe one of the most beautiful mountains of Montafon, the Zimba. The Zimba, also lovingly called the Montafoner Matterhorn due to its shape, literally towers over the Heinrich Hueter Hut, which is your goal. You have enough time during the descent to the Heinrich Hueter Hut to observe it from afar. Also keep your eyes directed towards Saulakopf and Saulajoch, which lie to your left. With some luck, you can observe chamois grazing here.

Approach

Coming from Feldkirch, take the Brandnertal motorway exit and follow the L82 towards Brandnertal. Passing the Brandnertal mountain lifts, you finally reach deep in the valley the Lünereebahn. From here you must continue with the gondola to get off directly at the top by the Lünensee. The gondola exit is also your starting point of the route, the Douglass Hut.

Public transport

Just leave your car standing

From Bludenz train station take bus line 81 to the Lünereebahn. The stop is: "Lünereebahn".

Directions

The path leads you along the shore of the Lünersee, which lies to your right. Here you follow the great Walsersweg. After a few meters, the path forks. Follow the ascending path with signage towards the Heinrich Hueter Hut straight ahead. Continue towards the Lünerkrinne, which at 2158 m marks the highest point of this route. Continue following the hiking trail that now descends. After two right turns, which you ignore, there is a left turn. Also ignore this and continue following the hiking trail and signage towards the Heinrich Hueter Hut.

Equipment

- Active map
- Weather-appropriate clothing
- Sturdy footwear with a good tread sole
- Enough to drink, and a snack if needed

Tips

The highest point of this route is the Lünerkrinne at 2158 m. Take a snack with you and use the great view from up here to recharge. With a mountain panorama before your eyes, everything tastes twice as good.
