Upper station of the Hochalpila Cable Car

Directions

From the top station of the Hochalpila Cable Car, you'll first hike toward the Kreuzjoch. The wide trail takes you past several scenic viewpoints to the top station of the Panorama Cable Car. Just beyond that, the ascent to Kreuzjoch begins. Once you reach the top, a sweeping view of the Montafon Valley and your next destination, the Zamangspitze, opens up before you.

From Kreuzjoch, first head back along the same trail, then follow the Panoramaweg toward Zamangspitze. At a fork in the trail, you can choose between two routes. The direct alpine trail to the summit is very exposed and secured only in places with a wire rope. Alpine experience, sure-footedness, and a head for heights are absolutely essential here. As an easier alternative, the trail passes below the summit and ascends to the Zamangspitze from the other side.

After reaching the summit, head back down and follow the trail toward Zamangalpe. From Zamangalpe, the alpine trail eventually leads you back to the Grasjoch Bahn mountain station.
