RUNDTOUR

Tour description

A scenic road bike route from Aktivpark Montafon through St. Anton im Montafon up to Bartholomäberg, continuing through Innerberg into the Silbertal valley, and back to Schruns-Tschagguns. You can expect a long climb, breathtaking views, and a varied descent.

From Aktivpark Montafon, you'll start by rolling leisurely out of the valley toward St. Anton im Montafon. There, the climb begins via Jetzmunt up to Bartholomäberg. The route follows the Panoramastraße past the Baroque church in Bartholomäberg and continues on to Innerberg, the highest point of the tour.

Then the route winds down through a series of switchbacks into the Silbertal valley. From there, follow the road along the Litz River out of the valley to Schruns and back to the Aktivpark Montafon.

Along the way, the Baroque church in Bartholomäberg, the Fröhmesshaus Museum, and—with a short detour—the Silbertal Mining Museum are all great places to stop.

Starting Point - Directions - End Point

Starting point:

Aktivpark Montafon in Schruns-Tschagguns

Directions:

From Aktivpark Montafon, you'll first ride into the valley—or rather, follow the local bike path network—to Tschagguns, and then out of the valley via Kaltenbrunnen/Gantschier and Vandans to St. Anton im Montafon.

The longer climb begins at the St. Anton train station. Follow the road uphill toward Jetzmunt. After the first few switchbacks, the route continues uphill through several sections of forest. As soon as the forest thins out, you'll reach the Bartholomäberg Panorama Road.

Follow this road to the center of Bartholomäberg. The Baroque church is a good spot for a short break. Afterward, stay on the Bartholomäberg Panorama Road and continue toward Innerberg. After an initially somewhat flatter section, the gradient increases again. In Innerberg, you'll reach the highest point of the loop.

Below the Innerberg church, the descent toward Silbertal begins. The road winds downhill in several switchbacks to the Silbertalerstraße.

At the junction, you have two options: For a detour to the center of Silbertal and the Mining Museum, turn left. To continue directly, keep to the right and follow Silbertalerstraße along the Litz River out of the valley.

This will eventually take you to the town center of Schruns. Ride back to Schruns-Tschagguns and the Aktivpark Montafon via Bahnhofstraße and Wagenweg.

End point:

Aktivpark Montafon in Schruns-Tschagguns

Tips

Culture at Bartholomäberg: The Baroque church and the Frühmesshaus Museum are perfect for a quick stop to catch your breath.

A detour to Silbertal: If you have a little extra time, it's worth driving into the town center and visiting the mining museum.

Enjoy the panorama: Especially on the Panoramic Road between Jetzmunt and Innerberg, it's worth letting your gaze wander from the road to the mountain scenery every now and then.
