

Montafon Verwallrunde | New Heilbronner Hut to Gaschurn

Moderate

Alpenmosaik - Verwall

Einkehrmöglichkeit

Tour description

An idyllic high mountain route through the European protected area Verwall. From the New Heilbronner Hut, it goes over the Wiegensee to Gaschurn.

The Natura 2000 area “Verwall” is with approx. 120 km² the largest protected area of Vorarlberg. Transition is the characteristic of the Verwall. For here you find the transition from the Randalpen to the Central Alps. This concerns both the rocks in the subsoil and the precipitation. In a small space, plants and habitats are interlocked that can be found strictly separated elsewhere.

Encased by the Klostertal, the Ill and the Tyrolean state border, the European protected area encloses a unique alpine habitat from the valley floor of the Litz to the two-thousanders of the Verwall group. Here you find the largest larch-pine forests of Vorarlberg as well as numerous moors, lakes, extensive mountain pine, alder and alpine rose bushes, colorful alpine meadows as well as rugged rock habitats. The remoteness and silence of the area allow a variety of endangered bird species and other wildlife to find undisturbed retreat areas here.

Public transport

This stage of the Verwallrunde Montafon is only accessible on foot.

Directions

The next morning starts the next stage at the New Heilbronner Hut and leads you down to Verbellaalpe. Before Verbellaalpe you cross the alpine road and take the path that leads over the beautiful alpine meadow towards Wiegensee.

After a short break at Wiegensee, the path continues to Inner Tafamuntmaisäß. Here you find the alpine hut for a small refreshment.

Well rested and strengthened, you start the last section of this day stage towards Gaschurn. Here the path leads you past Außer Tafamuntmaisäß down to the center of Gaschurn.
