

Flowtrails Trailpark Hochjoch - Trail No. 3 Wolfsgruaba Trail

MODERATE

BERGBAHNAUF/-ABSTIEG

Tour description

The Wolfsgruaba Trail is one of the intermediate routes among the three flowtrails and has a length of 226 meters.

Do you prefer biking in the mountains, and preferably with the whole family? Then the new flowtrails at Hochjoch above Schruns are just right for you! With the large gondola, you and your bike can comfortably go up to the Kapellrestaurant, where the flowtrails of different difficulty levels start. The Wolfsgruaba Trail is an intermediate trail. There is also the intermediate Kilka Wald Trail and the easy Hubertus Trail.

Directions

From the Kapellrestaurant, the trails lead through the forest to the Kropfen middle station. The three different lines – covering 500 meters of altitude and a total of almost seven kilometers, from easy to intermediate – guarantee fun for the whole family!

Equipment

Helmet use is mandatory without exception. Wearing a full-face helmet and additional protective gear such as upper body protectors, knee and elbow pads, as well as gloves is recommended.

Make sure to stay strictly on the marked paths.

Tips

You can access the flowtrails with the Hochjoch cable car from Schruns.

Choose from different tickets: for one run, for the whole day, or – if you have a multi-day, season, or annual pass – just the bike transport.

Please note that bike transport is only possible with the Hochjoch cable car.
