Tour description

Along the shore of Lake Lünensee, the path leads you from the Totalphütte to the Douglass Hut, which is located directly at the mountain station of the Lüneseebahn. A pleasurable route with constant views of the legendary Lake Lünensee.

From the Totalphütte, the route leads you down a path to Lake Lünensee. Following the lakeshore path to the left, the way takes you to the Douglass Hut. Lake Lünensee lies at about 1,970 meters above sea level and is located at the end of the Brandnertal. It is one of the largest high mountain lakes in Vorarlberg and also the biggest reservoir for power generation. At the time of its commissioning in 1958, the Lünensee power plant was the most powerful pumped-storage power plant in the world. Lake Lünensee measures about 112 hectares and has a maximum filling volume of 78.3 million cubic meters.
